Symphony for ArcGIS – Efficiently Automate ArcGIS Tasks

Symphony for ArcGIS® automates recurring administrative tasks and simplifies workflows. This powerful automation tool includes a no-code workflow builder that can handle a wide range of administrative tasks. This includes generating and sending reports, validating content, and starting or stopping ArcGIS services, among other things. Workflows can be executed on a scheduled basis, on demand, or event-driven via server logs and webhooks, making administrative processes more efficient and saving resources.

Advantages

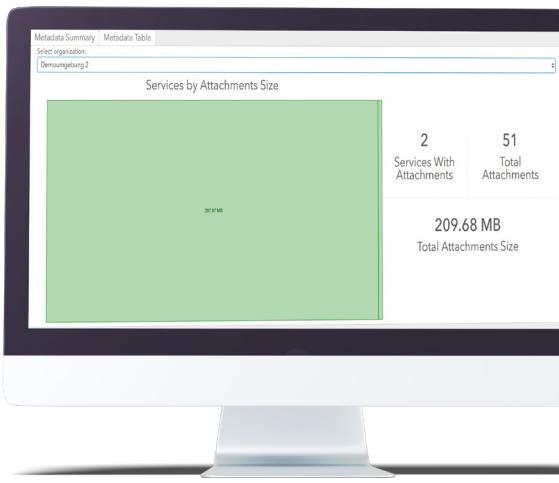

- Analysis and transparency regarding organizational structure and content
- Reduced workload from repetitive administrative tasks
- Easy-to-use interface with a visual overview of workflows
- Execution of script-based processes without programming knowledge
- A more stable system environment through proactive reminders of important deadlines
- Fewer outages thanks to early notification of anomalies in the ArcGIS Server logs

Manage My Attachments – Easily Organize Attachments in ArcGIS

As an add-on, Manage My Attachments extends Symphony for ArcGIS with features for analyzing and specifically optimizing attachments in ArcGIS Services. The solution provides a centralized overview of storage requirements, attachment types, and service types, as well as extensive filtering options for analysis. Photo attachments can be compressed directly, reducing the file size by an average of about 70%, while maintaining nearly the same image quality.

Advantages

- Viewing and filtering options for attachments from Feature Services
- Reduced storage requirements in ArcGIS Data Store and for backups
- Faster backups and exports from file geodatabases
